Board of Managers of Ruggles Camp Meeting Hold Meeting Here Today-Date is July 28th To August 7th.

The Board of Directors of Ruggles Campmeeting Association held a long and busy session this morning at the Third Street M. E. Church, Every member of the board was present District Superintendents J. M. Literal. of Covington, and W. H. Davenport, of Ashland, Revs. N. G. Griswold, of Polesboro, W. B. Foley, of Vanceburg, W. H. Morris and W. S. Peters, of this city and lay members John R. Brodt, president of the board, W. D. Hendrickson, of Vanceburg, J. R. Hinton, of Epworth, and G. N. Harding and J.

H. Richardson of the city. The first matter of business taken up was the refurnishing of the hotel. President Brodt as committee on this matter made his report and upon motion it was ordered that twelve rooms be thoroughly refurnished with new cots, mattresses, pilows and other fixtures to make the fooms attractive. This will make the hotel a very attractive place for campers who do not wish to rent and furnish a cottage.

The date of the campmeeting was set for Thursday, July 28th, to Sunday, August 7th, inclusive. It was decided that the camp should be open for campers from July first until August 31st. This is for the benefit of many who like to go ahead of time. Then this action of the board is to the effect that campers are not to come before or after the dates set.

By order of the board the auto park wil be placed in a safe condition for the parking of all automobiles. No machines may be parked within the campus hereafter. The park will be let to responsible parties and a special price will be made to campers who have their autos. The larger part of the woods will still be free for parking purposes for those who do not wish special care taken of their

On account of the improvements to be made to the hotel thus making it a much more valuable concession it was decided to not open bids for same until the next meeting of the board on the Fourth of July. in short order. The talent selected to conduct the various meetings is always looked forward to with interest. Especially so as to the evangelistic talent. This year the Rev. Geo. W. Birney, of Columbus. Ohio, who is the Cincinnati area evangelist, will have this part in the campmeeting. Those who know Dr. Birney personally speak in the highest terms, not only of his ability as an evangelist but of the man himself. He makes a splendid impression wherever he goes.

Dr. J. L. Fort, of Louisville, will be secured for the Sunday school School of Methods work if possible. This will be a new service for the campmeeting and is expected to prove one of the most effective as well as most popular services of the campmeeting. OFFICERS HEAD OFF ATTEMPTED DELIVERY AT LOCAL BASTILE tomorrow night.

Another jail delivery at the Mason county jail was nipped in the bud by local officers this morning when they received information that the eight prisoners who are now incarcerated in the local bastile had started work last night at sawing through the bars

Acting upon the information they had received, local policemen went to jail this morning and began a careful search of every cell in the jail. In the bunk occupied by William Williams, colored, Officer P. Ryan found two hack saw blades and an iron pipe more than a loot long. These tools were found hidden in the bedding. Williams was arrested at the local

C. & O. depot several days ago on suspicion and upon his person was found a heavy railroad bolt which the officers suspected was being carried as a weapon. Williams was a bad looking man and did not answer questions put to him by the officers to suit them and suspecting that he was a criminal wanted somewhere, he was held on suspicion. Chief Ort is of the opinion that Williams is a negro wanted in West Virginia on a murder charge and is now waiting to hear from the officers there. His being the leader in this attempt to escape confirms the officer in his opinion. Williams when questioned this morning by Chief Ort, denied that he was the leader of the attempt at delivery and contends that the saws and iron bar were hidden in his bunk when he was outside in the corridor. This, however, is discounted.

The prisoners had started last night n their attempt to saw through the window bars. The same window was selected through which prisoners es-were handed to the prisoners through

Every Member of Woodford County Mob Branded As Murderers and Governor Offers Reward.

Frankfort, Ky., March 15 .- By proclamation Monday, Governor E. P. Edgar, County Jailer of Woodford, from whom a mob early Sunday took Richard James, a negro, and hanged him a mile from

"A mob has again disgracci Kentucky-a mob, useless, needless and without justification-the spirit of the lawbreaker crying out in the name of the law has put all law to shame. The distardly and cowardly practice will continue as long as public officials surrender to the influence of the mob and have not the courage to resist and punish those guilty of their formation. Every member of this mob is a murderer, made and declared such by the laws of the Commonwealth.

"I call upon all peace officers and all those chargeable with the enforcement of law to bring these murderers to indictment and conviction; to the end that law, and not the mob. shall be supreme in Kentuckky. OUR POLICY:

To support such measures as are unquestionably for the good of Mason County as an entire community, rather than such propositions as are in favor of the individual interest, or of one section as against another. And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the county as a whole,

A NEW AND DIFFERENT ADMINISTRATION.

The news from Washington upon the very opening days of the Harding administration is encouraging to all men who voted not merely for a new but for a different administration,

An era of good feeling has been inaugurated. The closing of the gap existing for so long, and with such lamentable results, between the President and Congress, has begun in earnest. Instead of cold reserve, dogmatism and hauteur in the White House, we have cordiality, compliance and winning modesty. Instead of a spirit which repells counsel and confidence, we have a spirit which invites both and craves both without loss of dignity and without surrender of any prerogative.

The news comes to us that the smiling faces of both Democratic and Republican Congressmen and Senators, as many of one party as the other, may be seen coming from the office of the President, where they have been conferring with a man full of human qualities, urbane, kindly, approachable and resolutely bent on cooperating with the legislative branch of the government in every possible way.

The President is not a trained diplomat in the European sense. He has not been reared on the tradition that words are a mere means of concealing thought, and that diplomatic finesse consists in the artful practice of deception, and success in gaining an advantage re gardless of right or the means employed.

But Mr. Harding is a past-master of that true diplomacy which consists in winning confidence, in reconciling differences, and in arriving at an honorable and satisfactory understanding with those who differ or who support conflicting claims.

Warren G. Harding believes in men, trusts them, draws out the best that is in them, engages their confidence and claims their help in the common task of patriotic service.

Senator Underwood, Senator Chamberlain and other leading men of the opposite party, have as easy access to the office of the President as the most influential men in his own party organization, enjoy his friendship and are heard with the same interest and respect.

Mr. Wilson was most unfortunate in being deprived of the experience in Congress which Mr. Harding enjoyed during his six years of service in the Senate. For Mr. Wilson, though he had served a short time as Governor of New Jersey, in reality came to his difficult work in the presidency with the mind and temper of a college professor and university president, and with a wrong conception of his office which he had expressed in his historical writings more than

He made no effort to work with Congress as a whole, but dictated, rather, to his own party representatives a policy matured in his own mind and handed down full-fledged from the "real throne of administration."

We have not only a new but a different administration. The American people, unless their character has been strangely modified in the past eight years, find it to their liking and look forward hope fully to an era of good feeling and substantial progress.

MORE DOCTORS CITED.

We note by the columns of that enterprising newspaper, the Owensboro Messenger, that quite a number of Owensboro physicians and druggists and a few at Henderson have been cited by Prohibition Director Paul M. Williams to appear before inspectors in those cities about the middle of the month to show cause why their permits should not be revoked for misusing their privilege to prescribe

The Interior Journal has frequently taken occasion to commend Director Williams for enforcing laws and for at least an attempt to stop the flood of whisky which grows out of doctors' prescriptions. If the director wants some good advice, we humbly suggest to him that one good way to stop that flood is to revoke the permit of every doctor who violates its terms.

Citations and hearings will not amount to much unless some of he offenders lose their permits. Hearings may be held until the crack of doom. The crooked physician cares nothing about that, so ong as he may cater to the appetite of his "patient" who always did feel the need of a little whisky" and who always will, so long as can get it by fair means or foull.

Particularly should the humbug of "sick" hotel guests be brokup in Kentucky. Chief Inspector J. Sherman Porter says that els of Kentucky are the unhealthiest in the world, if the doctors be believed, judging from the number of "patients" that appeal these doctors for whisky prescriptions. Porter says they do not m to have any other illness, though than one which requires isky as a remedy.

Of course, that is a fraud and Director Williams should so treat by revoking every permit whose holder attempts such a fraud. nford Interior Journal.

"Nothing that occured during the World War has served to change the opinion o fthe General Board as to the vital importance in war of the battleship; the ship that can at once give and take havy blows.

"Comment has been made from time to time in the press and elsewhere upon the comparatively little actual fighting done in the late war by the battleship fleets, and the conclusion has been drawn that because of their apparent inactivity they were of no use and could be dispensed with. The important service which they performed was neither generally understood nor appreciated. In reality it was upon the potential fighting power of these ships that the activities of all other naval craft was based. Throughout the war it was the Grand Fleet at Scapa Flow or thereabouts which controlled the movements of the enemy ships. It was the sea power latent in the battleships which exercised the pressure upon the enemy which kept the sea routes open to the Allies and sapped the morale of the German High Sea Fleet."

Their Medicine Chest For 20 Years

T is characteristic of folks after they pass the allotted "three score years and ten," to look back over the days that are gone and thoughtfully live them over. I find myself, at seventy-one, frequently drifting back a quarter of a century, when I see myself in the little drug store I owned at Bolivar, Mo., making and selling a vegetable compound to my friends and customers—what was then known only as Dr. Lewis' Medicine for Stomach, Liver and Bowel Complaints.

and Bowel Complaints.

For many years while I was perfecting my formula I studied and investigated the laxatives and cathartics on the market and became convinced that their main fault was not that they did not act on the bowels, but that their action was too violent and drastic, and upset the system of the user; which was due to the fact that they were not thorough enough in their action, some simply acting on the upper or small intestines, while others would act only on the lower or large intestines, and that they almost invariably produced a habit requiring augmented doses.

I believed that a preparation to produce thelived that a preparation to produce the best effect must first tone the liver, then so on the stomach and entire alimen-tary system. If this was accomplished, the medicine would produce a mild, but thorough elimination of the waste without the usual sickening sensations, and make the user feel better at once.

After experimenting with hundreds of different compounds, I at last perfected the formula that is now known as Nature's Remedy, which I truly believe goes further and does more than any laxative on the market today. The thousands of letters from users have convinced me I was right, and that the user of Nature's Remedy as a family medicine, even though he may have used it for twenty-five years, never has to increase the dose.

My knowledge of medicine and the results of its use in my own family and among my friends, before I ever offered it for sale, caused me to have great faith in Mature's Remedy from the very first.

Mature's Remedy from the very irres, and now as I find myself nearing the age when I must bow to the inevitable and go to another life, my greatest pleasure is to asit each day and road the letters that each mail brings from people as old or older than I, who tell of having used Rature's Remedy for ten, fifteen and twenty years, and how they and their children and grandchildren have been benefitted by it. grandenidren have been beneated by k.

WORLD MEETING OF 38 NATIONS TO AID TRANSIT

Delegates Regret Absence of United States From Discussions of International Communication,

Barcelona, Spain. - Delegates of thirty-eight nations attending the International Conference on Communications and Transit, in session here, were prepared Friday mornin gto begin serious consideration of the program outlined yesterday by Gabriele Hanotaux of France, the presiding officer. The most important matter before the meeting was the appointment o fa committee to draf a part relative to transport. This convention was described by Count Quinones de Leon, Spanish Ambassador to France, as being a document which would "contribute to the development of international commerce, the expansion, progress and equality of peoples and the well-being of humanity."

It will be an attemp to settle international controversies relative to railroads, waterways and ports.

In his address Count Guinones de Leon called attention to the presence of delegates fro mcountries discovered by Spanish explorers, and said that he was glad to see that they, by their presence heer, gave proof of their reationship with Spain.

Regret regarding the absence of delegates from the United States and Argentina was expressed by many delegates and M. Hantaux referred to the the United States by saying:

"Our thoughts are with the absent." He said that, as Spain had been one of the first countries to join the League of Nations, under the auspices of which the present conference is being held, it seemed natural that the first technical conference of the league should be held on Spanish soil.

Later in the meeting M. Hanotaux referred to the "overwhelming importance" of the pact to be framed here, which, according to the Versailles treaty, must come into effect within five years after the conclusion of the war. He declared it would form a great feature in the relations of the world in future, because it would fa- allow. cilitate commercial communication and the distribution of necessary articles.

New York. - Evidently the Fifth Avenue bus tops are to continue to hold their place as the last stand of the city's gentle love affairs. When the Park department took its cruel stand in regard to occasional handholdings or kisses being indulged in within their domain, nothing was left to the handholders but the bus tops. Then somebody remembered them and wrote to the Fifth Avenue Coach So., protesting against its allowing any such goings on. The company refused to be disturbed or to issue orders anent its more sentimental passengers. So the other day, a shocked person, signing himself i nthe good old way, "Pro Bono Publico," wrote a letter to Sheriff Knott, expressing his shocks. And that galant officials replied "Let the spooners spoon," and more to that effect. So in this whole big city, there remain the few floating oases for those who have no homes of their own in which to express their

There is one region from which will come no measures to regulate woman's dress. That is New York City. Previously earnest reformers could usually get such bills introduced, even though everyone knew they wouldn't get beyond the "pleased to meet you" stage. But a representative from here was approached by one who was much disturbed about "what are we coming oration of Riley's poem, and the photo" with a bill which would limit the tography and characters are excellent. brevity of women's skirts. "Not for me," said this wise man, eidging away. "Those short skirts put me here today. There are some thousands of sent personal letters the other day to them in my district. Not for me!" There are no dress reform bills before the New York Legislature as yet. There will be none.

It WAS an unusual sight that at tracted the librarian's attention first. An ordinary looking man sat peaceably at a reading table when suddenly something soapsudsy-looking gushed from the top of his waistcoat. The librarian hesittated. There was nothing in the rules to meet the emergency of a reader gushing soapsuds. Then she went over to him. "It-is-anything the matter?" she asked gently. "Matter?" said the man; and then noticed his bubling waistcoat. By that time three more severe members of about. Maysville people testify to their worth. Read a case of it: Mrs. R. L. Mattingly, 207 West Sec ond street, Maysville, says: "I was in a bad condition with my back and kidneys. I couldn't get my proper rest at night owing to the dull misery in my night owing to the dull misery in my back. I was feeling so miserable I often had to let my housework go undone. I was dizzy by spells and also suffered from rheumatic pains. I have been so bad that I couldn't walk without pushing a chair in front of me and my lower limbs were very painful. My kidneys were in a bad condition owing to their irregular action. My mother had used Doan's Kidney Pills successhad used Doan's Kidney Pills successfully and that led me to send to Wood A Son's Drug Store and get a couple homes. After using them I was all right. TO EQUAL BRITISH IN CHINA.

Washington. -Representative Dyer, of Missouri, has reported favorabley from the Committee on Judiciary a bill designed to place American business on a footing with British and the public library staff had gathered Japanese interests in China. In his report he says:

"China occupies a stretch of territory one-sixth larger than continental United States. The population is four times as large as our population and her climatic condition and natural resources are quite similar to ours. For her climatic condition and natural reyears through the work of our missionaries and educators and the operation of our 'open-door' policy we have been building up a great asset of goodwill toward America on the part of the Chinese people. They know that America has no designs on their territory and that the close commercial relations of the two Republics will do muc hto strengthen China and enable her to more successfully cope with aggresors who do have designs on her territory. The fact that the trade between the United States and China had quadrupled in the last fifteen years prove the possibilities if we can be placed on an equal footing with our competitors."

The bill exempts American corpora tions doing business in China from income and surplus taxes, in this respect placing them on a par with British and Japanese concerns.

FUND FOR CHILDREN OF EUROPE HAS BEEN RAISED.

Literary Digest Announces That Thirty-three Million Dollars Is On Hand.

With grateful hearts we give thanks to Almighty God for a wonderful outpouring of love and generosity by the American people.

Three and a half million innocent children, helpless waifs of the war, were starving, and cold, and stricken with disease. They cried out across the sea, "Save us or we perish!" And the triyt-three million dollars needed to save these little ones from death has now been raised.

When, about four mouths ago, The Literary Digest published an appeal through the length and breadth of the Nation in the editorial, "The Slaughter of the Innocents," the great heart of America was stirred, as our our hearts had been stirred. Millions of fathers and mothers were moved with a deep an dtender yearning and a quick impulse to succor these innocent sucerers. Millions of happy children, also, felt the eager thrill of sympathy and desire to help. Like an impelling vision, real and tragic, we could see those millions of tiny arms, bare and thin and trenfbling, stretched out to us in pain and want; we could see the sad little eyes searching our souls; we could hear their weak voices crying for food and comfort. We were told that the huge sum of money asked for could not be raised at this time. But knew that the American people, in their great-hearted love for children, could not now be deaf, as they had never in the past been deaf, to a real cry of sucering from little ones whose desperate need was laid on their hearts as a sacred trust. And now, with a wonderful feeling of exaltation, we are able to say, It is done! and the millions of our fellow countrymen who have contributed to this fund will share in the thrill of joy at the glad

And now a new vision greets the yes of Americans; Three and a half millions of pairs of little arms are stretched out to us across the sea, not in piteous pleading, but in the passionate gratitude of childhood. Three and a half million pairs of eyes are searching our souls, not with the haunting gaze of suffering and death, but brimming over with joy and love and thanksgiving. Three and a half million childish voices are coming to they are not piercing our ears with bitter cries of pain and want, but are sweet with laughter and the happy shouts of little ones whose suffering has been turned into joy. And yet more. In three and a half million young hearts have been planted a love of the American Flag and an understanding of what it means that shall live through the years and grow into strong bond of fellowship and peace.

The vast sum of money has been given with unfeigned joy and eagerness. Thousands have written to us with real gratitude for the opportunity and privilege of buying for themselves that precious and priceless thingfi, the life of a little child. And many letters and telegrams from organizations and state and city committees have testified that the effort expended in carrying out this campaign has been a blessing to Ameri-
